Arbour Panel Design

Founded in the 1940s, George Spencer Designs is one of Britain's longest-established fabric houses. Bringing together in-house designs and international textile and wallpaper collections, it is renowned for artisanal products, luxurious natural fibres and textural weaves.

The new Arbour Panel design from George Spencer Designs gives wool a new lightness and delicacy.

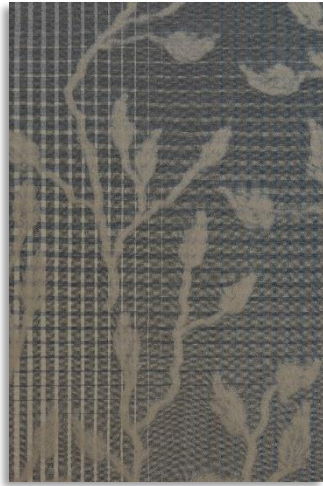

Made in panels with a 3.3m drop, Arbour Panel is a textured fabric. It features a horizontal and vertical ombre checked ground behind raised branches, cleverly created with tufted yarn during the weaving process. Panels can be used singly or hung together to create a continuous pattern. The ombre check is also available without the tufted branches.
