HANDCRAFTED IN ENGLAND

PRESS RELEASE

7th September 2020

British craftsmanship brand, Collier Webb launch “Portable Collection”

Collier Webb creates bespoke lighting for the world’s best interior designers and the most luxurious destinations.

Following a growing demand within their client base for well-made and desirable portable lighting, Collier Webb’s in-house team of designers have created a stylish, expertly crafted collection of portable table lamps.

The Portable Collection consists of five designs, including miniaturised versions of existing collection pieces alongside brand-new designs – all with the brand’s signature aesthetic and made with substantial solid brass.

All have a discreet height, ideal for dining and are fitted with cordless, rechargeable technology with an average battery life of 10 hours.

“We wanted to create a range of wireless lights that befitted our clientele perfectly. Whether they are designing the interior of a top London restaurant, a yacht or a courtyard garden – the lighting needs to reflect the luxurious nature of the setting – with wireless lighting this has not always been easy to find. We’ve created this collection to fill that gap.” Danielle Collier – Sales & Business Development Director
